Information provided by the provider describing their agency:

David Carlow, RN, MS

DDS Director of Health and Clinical Services (2005-2010)
DDS Director of Health Services (1987-2005)
Clinical Nurse Specialist Newington Children's Hospital (1983-1987)
Registered Nurse Newington Children's Hospital (1978-1983)
Masters of Science School of Nursing Russell Sage College (1983)
Bachelor of Science University of Connecticut School of Nursing (1978)

My primary interest in providing Health Care Coordination Services is to ensure that consumers supported by the DDS human service system receive optimal supports to create conditions to achieve the DDS mission. Throughout my 33 year professional nursing career I have had the pleasure and good fortune to work in the field of developmental disabilities as a clinician, administrator, educator and advocate. During this period of time I had the opportunity to observe and evaluate the quality of community based health care services as well as the day and residential support opportunities available for people with intellectual and physical disabilities across the State. As such, I have a comprehensive understanding of the health care needs of people with intellectual disabilities and the skill set to assess and plan for the acute and chronic health care conditions that may impact their lives.

In my capacity as a member of the consumers support team my goal is to ensure that individual's are healthy and safe by coordinating health supports taking into consideration the person's health care choices and the OPS developed by the IDT.

In addition to my experience and expertise within the field of ID/DD, I am employed in a nursing faculty position at the University Of Connecticut School Of Nursing where I am responsible for educating and training undergraduate nursing students to support people with intellectual and developmental disabilities in a variety of community based health care settings. I have a vast network of health care colleagues across the State as well as an excellent working relationship with many of the Hospitals and Health Care facilities that our consumers access for their health care.

I look forward to working with you and our consumers
